Who We Are

ARRK Technical Services was established in July 2005 when ARRK Product Development Group purchased the Engineering and Recruitment divisions of MSX International.

With locations in Basildon and Coventry, and employing over 500 direct and indirect engineering staff, ARRK Technical Services sees itself as a strategic design partner dedicated to a single objective: helping our customers gain a competitive advantage.

What We Do

ARRK Technical Services is a leading provider of technology driven design and business services that prides itself in its ability to meet and exceed expectations. Our specialist engineering services are provided to the Product Design, Automotive, Bus and Aerospace industries.

Our core service portfolio includes Styling, Concept Design, Predictive Analysis & Simulation, Engineering, Test & Validation, Prototyping, Full Line Services and Recruitment Solutions.

With our extensive project experience we can offer competitive design and production alternatives that redefine standards. Our personalised approach is client driven, tailored to provide continuous communication at all stages of the design and development process.
